

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.

"If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and no-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

SOME HARM IN MOONLIGHT

Scientists Have Been Giving the Matter Attention and Now Are Out With Explanation.

The alleged harmfulness of moonlight is at last receiving scientific attention. It seems that the light of the moon, being reflected, is polarized; that is, the vibrations are in one plane instead of all planes, as in light coming directly from its source. It is also said that it has less germicidal power than direct light, and that decay is therefore quicker.

All this may be true, and it may explain some of the folklore as to moonlight. We have so long believed these tales to be the myths of primitive peoples that we are not inclined to take any suggestions in this line seriously. They are really mistaken attempts at the scientific explanation of phenomena noticed for the first time.

The folk-tales seem to have originated in lands of very clear atmosphere, and it is extremely doubtful whether in northern misty climates moonlight has any peculiar or nervous effect one way or the other. Still we are often surprised at the facts elicited from still more bizarre investigations. Surely polarized light must have injurious rectal effects, and it might be well to find out that much.

Had Enough of War.

After a season in the trenches, knee deep in mud and water, yet not having seen one of the enemy in all that time, Private Cox was invalided home. After relating all the adventures which he and his comrades had experienced, he concluded, "And now I come 'ome full of bloody rheumatism and I 'ope I never see a bloody battle again."

RISKED NECK FOR LOVE OF WOMAN

Athlete Plunged From Bridge, High Cliff and an Express Train.

DAREDEVIL FOR MOVIES

Capitalized His Neck to "Make Good" and Then Started Film Company of His Own—Parents Give Blessing.

New York.—Louis G. McPhee, Yale athlete, who became a daredevil for the movies in order to "make good" for the girl he loved, has retired from his perilous occupation and is now manager of a moving picture concern with headquarters in New York city. Incidentally he has won the approval of the McCann family to a marriage he contracted with Miss Dolores Grace McCann before he started on his career as a high diver.

McPhee's romance began three years ago in Pleasantville, N. Y., where he was spending the summer months. One day he saw approaching a runaway team. In the carriage he saw a frightened young woman. McPhee leaped from his automobile, stopped the team and from that time he and Miss McCann were close friends. Three months later they were married, but Father McCann declared the union would never be approved until McPhee had "made good."

Neck His Principal Asset. McPhee realized that he could not "make good" in a day and looked over his stock in trade. He recalled that while in Yale he won many prizes as a high diver. So he capitalized his neck and offered himself as a daredevil for the movies. McPhee's first feat was a leap from High Bridge, New York city, into the icy waters of the Harlem river, a distance of 135 feet. McPhee made the leap, but broke three ribs, dislocated a jaw and suffered a hemorrhage of the throat. Despite his injuries he struggled to shore and received $500 for the trick, which required 1 minute and 48 seconds.

His parents-in-law lived in constant dread lest McPhee's desperate method of making good would make their daughter a widow. His next feat was to leap from an aeroplane.

Leaped From Express and Cliff.

McPhee's final achievement before the camera eclipsed all former efforts. In this film he climbed over telegraph wires to the cross arm of a pole. There he hung suspended until a passenger train passed under him. He dropped to the roof of a coach and then leaped into the river as the train was crossing a bridge. Detectives still pursued and McPhee, cornered at the top of a 100-foot cliff, leaped into the river a second time.

This film settled the career of McPhee as a high diver. He'll jump no more, as his parents-in-law felt that any man who will take such risks to "make good" must love their daughter.

QUIT JOBS AT WIVES' ORDER

Spouses Accuse Two Workmen at Jail of Being "Honor Prisoners."

Racine, Wis.—Two men employed at the court house quit their jobs because they did not wish to be classed as "honor jail" prisoners. The men had sought employment at the court house because they had been laid off at factories. Their wives, reading an account of the employment of "honor" prisoners at the court house, accused their husbands of being under detention by the sheriff. Unable to convince the women to the contrary, they were forced to resign.

Hunter in Close Wildcat Fight.

Williamsport, Pa.—Dr. R. Miller Cox of Chester killed a large wildcat in a close combat in the woods near Trout Run. He was hunting for deer when he encountered the cat in the top of a tree. Cox fired and shot off the front leg of the animal, when the frenzied beast jumped for the man and landed on the ground a few feet from him. Another shot shattered the cat's jaw and entered its brain, ending the battle.

IMMENSE QUANTITY OF WHEAT TIED UP

There Will Still, However, Be a Heavy Deficit of the World's Normal Crop.

A grain expert who has been watching the grain markets and the world's grain fields for a number of years, says:

"There is at the present time about two billion bushels of wheat, the production of the countries at war, tied up. This is about one-half the world's total production of wheat, which is four billion bushels. One writer argues that, granting that the warring nations produce a one-half crop in the coming year, a deficit of one billion bushels will still be shown. The three countries upon which the filling of this deficit of one billion bushels will rest are the United States, Canada, and Argentina. The combined output of these three countries is only 1,249,000,000, their exportable surplus would of course be much less, so it can easily be seen that the question is not one to be easily solved and it behooves all the above countries to increase their respective productions as much as they possibly can, for when the war is over and trade begins to re-establish itself and the nations undergo a process of rehabilitation, the demand for all breadstuffs will be enormous.

"During the three years following the declaration of peace the farmers of all neutral wheat-producing countries will have ample opportunity to market their wheat at good prices, and it may safely be assumed that the demand will be heavy. Canada has an unusual opportunity in that she has the natural environment for wheat production; she is under the protection of the British flag, and she will not be molested upon the water to any great extent; she can increase her acreage and greatly enhance her production. In other words, she can become a far greater wheat-producing country than she is at the present time."

If the summing-up as made by this expert be correct, there is not the very best reason for the continued effort that is being made by the Government of the Dominion of Canada to secure settlers on the productive vacant lands of the country? Not only are these lands capable of producing high class wheat in large quantities, but cattle, pigs, sheep and horses also do well. The climate is admirably suited.—Advertisement.

GET FAR FROM ALL DANGER

In the Breeding Season Condors Roost in the Most Broken and Inaccessible Places.

There is a splendid specimen of the male condor in a glass case in the bird room of the Children's museum in Brooklyn. Though he stands 3½ feet high, the spread of his wings is nine feet.

"The condors live throughout the Andes, principally in Chile and Peru. Their favorite haunts are the level of perpetual snow," writes Miss Anna B. Gallup in the Museum News. "During a portion of the year condors roost in the trees on the lower mountain slopes, but in the breeding season (the summer months of November and December) they retire to the most broken and terrific precipices, 10,000 to 15,000 feet above the sea level, where no other creature can dwell. There, on a ledge or shelf of rock, the female lays two white eggs nearly four inches in length. Sometimes she places a few sticks around them, perhaps to keep them from rolling out of place."

"After about seven weeks, in February or early in March, the young hatch, entirely covered with soft white down that afterward turns to a brown color."

Canada is Calling You to her Rich Wheat Lands

She extends to Americans a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help to feed the world by tilling some of her soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Think what you can make with wheat around $1 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain growing.

The Government this year is asking farmers to put increased acreage into grain. Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service. The climate is healthful and agreeable, railway facilities excellent, good schools and churches convenient.
